PAYMENT & CANCELLATION POLICY - COURSES

We required a 50 % deposit on reservation.
* This amount is not refundable within two weeks to the start of the course.
The other 50 % has to be paid one week prior to the course start.

Avalanche Canada course can be taught outside of actual avalanche terrain so we will always be able to find suitable areas in order to conduct our course regardless of the weather or avalanche conditions.

We are a small company so we take deposits via e transfer for Canadian customers and Paypal* for international customers. * 1.7 % fee is requested by Paypal so we ask that you add this fee to the total so we get the same income from all customers.

We give 10 % of our income to My Mountain Coop when we operate within their tenure. * Shames is always our plan B in case the snow coverage is not suitable in Prince Rupert. We will always price the course in accordance with the possibility to use Shames. When we do not need to , then the price of the course will be adjusted and you will receive a refund or you will be notified before the last payment is requested.

All lift tickets required in our course or ski guiding days are the responsibility of the customer.
